2012 Longplay Pinot Noir Lia's Vineyard Jory Bench Reserve

91 The 2012 Pinot Noir Lia's Vineyard Jory Bench Reserve sees ten months in French oak, 25 percent new. It offers red and black fruit on the nose: red plum, raspberry and cranberry leaf, sous-bois notes just behind. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannins, bright red cherries and raspberry fruit with a smooth, dark chocolate-tinged finish. Excellent. Drink with Father John Misty's "I Went To The Store One Day."
